10. Read the following text and answer the questions given below.

There are some obvious differences between apes and humans. The apes all have far more hair covering their bodies than we do. Their arms are much longer and stronger; White their legs tend to be shorter and weaker. Apes can climb very well and often swing about in the branches of trees. They usually walk on all fours.
This is known as knuckle walking, as they put their weight on their knuckles.

In spite of the fact that Apes are our close relatives, we have not treated them well. We have killed them, imprisoned them in 2005 and experimented on them in laboratories. Worse much of the forest in which they live has been destroyed. The orangutan, gorilla and gibbon are all in danger of dying out, and chimpanzees are much less common than they used to be.
